FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

The general buoyancy of the Wall street market in the several departments of business. STOCKS IRREGULAR.

At the Stock Exchange the earliest prices were bout as they closed the previous day; but as the forencon were on the speculative spirit ran strongly on the Vangerbit shares, the programme of the "bulls" in these securities seeming to contemplate the alternate movement of the stock and the scrip. Thus the former was the favorite to-day as the latter was yesterday. The report is de-nied that a conversion of the scrip is inthe purpose of the controlling powers to seek legislaan increase of the capital stock. Let this statement be held in memory until the Legislature has ad-journed. Not less in interest was the speculation in Rock Island, which despite its exile to the sideways. It seems that the action of the Stock Exchange has put the directors upon their dignity, and hence sustained the price in the face of the immense pressure of speculative sales. The street is largely short of Rock island, and the market in its oversold ision is very sensitive to bullish influences. The price late this afternoon was run up to 111 as against 107% at the opening. Intermediately the market underwent a decline from the buoyancy of and Northwest. The large talling off in the carnings of these roads checks the demand for their stock and induces holders to sell. The lower price of gold has led to the hoarding of the Western crops, and all lines dependent for freights upon the movement of grain begin to feel the light shipments of produce. Hence the weakness observable in the three stocks just mentioned. In the miscellaneous shares Cumberland opened steady at 36½ a 36½, but deslined finally to 35%. Pacific Mail, despite the contradiction of the report that the New York and San Francisco portion of the line is to be abandoned, was weak and sold as low as as ... There was a little movement and higher prices to-day for Mariposa preferred. The market at the close reacted from the lowest prices of the afternoon and left off steady at the figures which are appended to the list of stock sales.
GOLD ACTIVE.

The upward movement in gold was stimulated by the heavy olds from important houses at the government sale to-day and the price advanced to 122. The lowest price was 121% and the closing figure 121%. The bulls are encouraged to buy from the fact that the Western farmers are withholding the balance of last fall's crops, expecting that they will be able to get better prices when gold takes the generally looked for advance in the spring and summer. The exports are, moreover, on a falling scale for the new year, and the decrease this week as compared with last is half a million of dollars. The heaviness of American Securities in London is apprehended in some quarters as a preliminary to their reshipment, particularly as they now encounter the rivalry of the new Russian loan. The 67's were at one and a quarter per cent lower to-day in London, but closed better. The bids for the government gold were for a total of over seven and a quarter millions at prices ranging from 120% to 121.70. The awarded lots were as follows:-$916,500, 121.65; $45,000, 121.65; $5,600, 121.70; $4,500, 121.65; $9,000, 151.65; $10,000, 121.66; $10,080, 121.67. GOVERNMENTS STRONG.

The domestic market for governments was not unfavorably affected by the character of the foreign market or by the reports that the German bankers have of late been large sellers on foreign account. Prices were active and somewhat unsettled, but closed at the best figures of the day as lollows:-United States currency sixes, 111 a 1111/2; do., 1881, registered, 118 a 118%; do. do., coupon, 118% a 118%; do. dive-twenties, registered, May and November, 115% a 116; do., do., 1862, coupon, do., 115% a 116; do. do. 1851, do. do., 116% a 116; do. do., 1865. do. do., 115% a 116; do. do , registered, January and July, 114% a 114%; do. do., 1865, coupon. do., 114% a 114%; do. do., 1867, do., do., 114% a 114%; do. do., 1868, do. do., 114% a 114%; do. ten-forties, registered, 112% a 112%; do. do., coupon, 112% a 115. THE MONEY MARKET retained the general features enumerated so frequently since the general relaxation to the rate on call. The stock houses were more extensively accommodated to-day at five per cent and the government dealers at four; but a great deal of business was done at six per cent and a little at seven. Comthough nominally quoted as on yesterday, was lower in actual transactions, the market being dull, buyers deferring their purchases until the Saturday steamer, the departure of to-morrow not being popul THE RAILWAY BONDS AND MORTGAGES.

The ease in money has of late diverted considerable capital to the railway bonds and mortgages, with the effect of rendering the market active and firm. DECLINE IN AMERICAN SHIPBUILDING.

W. H. Webb, of New York, Interviewed in California. A reporter of the San Francisco Atta California recently waited upon Mr. W. H. Webb, of New York. the celebrated shipbuilder, now on a visit to Califor-nia, and obtained from him his views in regard to the decline in American snipbuilding. Mr. Webb said in substance;-

nia, and obtained from him his views in regard to said in substance:—

There are many causes which have combined to produce this result. In order to consider them fully we should have to go back some years. For several years previous to the late war, and beginning with what may be termed the clipper era, sinjbuilding both in the United States and Great Britain was overdone. We commenced the building of cipper snips and Great Britain followed us. The contest for success causes it to be overdone; but the business in our country received a check just previous to the war, which did not, however, extend to Great Britain put ot that time. The breaking out of the war gave a strong impetus to shipbuilding in Great Britain, particularly to the construction of a class of fast sailing steamers designed for running the blockade, while it paralyzed the shipbuilding in our our own country, leaving it almost entirely in the hands of Great Britain. At the close of the war much of our shipping had been soid and business had gone out of our control, being diverted into other channels. In consequence, too, of the building of so many steamers by Great Britain, which were on hand at the close of the war, they managed to hold on to the business of building and freighting, as we had not the vessels to compete with them. Our government, too, during the war, constructed a large number of vessels, oftentimes hurriedly oulk, and not built with any reference to commerce, which at the close of the war were thrown upon the market, to the detriment particularly of shipbuilders. Following this the tariff is increased upon all articles we import for shipbuilding, and a heavy revenue tax is laid upon the construction of ships. Again, as a resuit of the war, the different States ran in debt in the raising and equipment of troops, and, as a consequence, two Nave Previous will run their ships if they can but obtain four per cent on the investment—a sum just double what we are compelled to pay as personal tax some final, while he warp have had a da said that Great Britain had been driven to the build ing of iron ships from the scarcity of timber, iron vessels being cheaper; but recently, finding the disvessels being cheaper; bus recently, finding the disadvantages of iron vessels, have gone largely into the construction of composite ships—the exterior being of wood and the interior of iron. These are found to answer the purpose very well, and are a decided improvement upon the ordinary iron ships. During the interview several other points were lightly bouched upon, but as no decided opinion was expressed they are not reported. It would seem to be well if some of our leading business men and mechanics would put themselves into communication with Mr. Webb on the important subject of reviving the ship building interest.
